Family-friendly winter in Galtür

In winter, Galtür turns into a true paradise for families who love skiing. The Silvapark ski area offers pistes and areas specially designed for families. There are six different sectors that cater for beginners as well as advanced skiers and snowboarders. Particularly noteworthy are the Zwergerlwelt and Abenteuerland sectors, which are perfect for the youngest winter sports enthusiasts. Here, children from the age of four can playfully gain their first experience on skis.

Parents have the opportunity to know that their children are well looked after while they themselves explore the more challenging slopes in the area. The ski school in Galtür offers courses for all ages and skill levels, so that the whole family can get their money's worth. The offer is rounded off by the weekly programme of the mascot Sigg, who offers different activities every day. There are also special family and youth rates that make skiing affordable for larger families.

In addition to skiing, Galtür and its neighbouring villages also offer many alternatives for an eventful winter's day. Tobogganing in the ski areas in Ischgl, Kappl and See is particularly popular with families. Winter hikes or snowshoe hikes through the snow-covered landscape also provide variety and are also suitable for families.
